1. Objectives and maintenance of these standards

- The standards contained herein set out the objectives, requirements and procedures related to obtaining and maintaining a Certified Management Consultant (CMC) title at VTMSZ
- These standards are subject to a recurring annual review by the CMC Board of VTMSZ
- The last fundamental change to these standards was made in August 2006 when the competency-based model was introduced
- Minor changes were made
 - in September 2011 with the introduction of the web-based workflow;
 - in November 2020 with the introduction of the recertification standard in lieu of the previous maintenance requirements standard
 - in January 2022 with the introduction of the CMC Emeritus title
- The latest review of these standards was performed in January 2022

2. The Certified Management Consultant (CMC) title

- ... means world class standards of competence, ethics and independence of management consultants
- ... is awarded world-wide by national institutes of management consultants, which satisfy the requirements set out by the International Council of Management Consulting Institutes (ICMCI)
- ... is awarded in Hungary by VTMSZ, the Association of Management Consultants in Hungary, according to the VTMSZ CMC CERTIFICATION CRITERIA STANDARD (see Section 5 below)
- ... is maintained in Hungary according to the VTMSZ CMC RECERTIFICATION STANDARD (see Section 7 below)
- ... is eligible for reciprocity between ICMCI member institutes

3. The CMC certificate issued in Hungary

- ... is a bi-lingual (Hungarian and English) document indicating that the bearer met the requirements and was awarded the CMC title
- ... is co-branded by VTMSZ and ICMCI
- ... is co-signed by the Chairperson of ICMCI, the President of VTMSZ and the Chairperson of VTMSZ's CMC Board
- ... has a time validity limit corresponding to the end of the triennial certification cycle
- ... is reissued upon recertification for the following certification cycle to CMC's of good standing

4. Pre-requisites for CMC candidates

4.1 Experience in management consulting

Five full years (60 months) of work experience is required either in a consulting firm or working directly with an experienced management consultant

4.2 Higher education degree

A recognised degree is required from an institution of higher education accredited in current OECD countries

- degrees obtained in non-OECD countries may be accepted upon evaluation by the CMC Board

4.3 Signed acceptance of VTMSZ's Code of Ethics

5. CMC certification criteria standard

The certification process is to assure that candidates comply with all elements of the VTMSZ CMC Core Competency Framework (see Exhibit B) and possess all attributes required by world class standards of competence, ethics and independence.

The process is comprised of the following distinct stages:

- Documentary review
- Assessment centre
- Case study
- Public presentation
- Panel interview

5.1 Documentary review

Candidates are required to submit an application package comprised of

- 5.1.1 an application form summarising the candidates relevant professional and personal data and
- 5.1.2 also including a signed statement of acceptance of the VTMSZ Code of Ethics
- 5.1.3 a curriculum vitae
- 5.1.4 two recommendation letters from CMCs
- 5.1.5 five project descriptions about the candidate's recent completed projects
- 5.1.6 client contact information for each of the above five projects
- 5.1.7 an overview of professional education attended by the candidate in the 12 months prior to application

5.1 Documentary review continued

The documentation is submitted by uploading to the certification website. Uploaded documentation is reviewed for completeness by the VTMSZ Secretariat and for compliance by the CMC Board. Compliance review criteria include:

- at least 60 months of work experience with either a consulting firm or an experienced management consultant
- both recommendation letters are received from CMCs of good standing
 - in case of CMC sponsors registered with other ICMCI member institutes, the sponsor's title is confirmed with their home institute
- all project descriptions adequately describe the work, the candidate's role, the client value created in the process and the lessons learned for the consultant

The CMC Board may require a preliminary interview, if the submitted documentation does not unambiguously support compliance with the requirements.

5.2 Assessment centre

Having passed the documentary review candidates attend an assessment centre event including

5.2.1 monitored group work

5.2.2 monitored group discussion (workshop) on professional ethics

5.2.3 group presentation

5.2.4 multiple-choice tests on ethics (75 per cent required to pass)

5.2.5 multiple-choice tests on the organisations of the consulting profession (60 per cent required to pass)

If the number of candidates so requires, multiple assessment centres may be organised.

The performance of the candidates is assessed by members of the Certification Panel (assessors).

The number of assessors present in the assessment centre event should be sufficient to ensure that each candidate is monitored by at least two assessors and no assessor has more than four candidates to monitor at the same time.

Performance assessments of the candidates are made by the assessors individually and summarised in a group discussion of assessors after the face-to-face event.

Candidates who score less than 75 per cent on the ethics test or 60 per cent on the test of professional organisations will be allowed a second sitting opportunity; failure of the second sitting will result in rejection of the CMC title.

Except for the multiple-choice test results described above, pass/fail decisions are not made at this point; assessments are only summarised for use on the panel interview.

5.3 Case study

Candidates submit a case study of an overall length of 4000-5000 words for evaluation including but not limited to the following sections:

- Positioning of the consultant
- Introduction of the client, and the solution required
- Project scope and approach, including phases, steps, as needed
- Project results (solutions provided), lessons learned, follow-up opportunities

The case study is evaluated in writing by an assigned member of the Certification Panel (assessor).

5.4 Public presentation

Candidates hold a public presentation on the topic of their choosing – ideally in their own area of research or particular expertise. Project descriptions or case studies are discouraged as topics for the presentation.

Ground rules:

- advertised a few weeks in advance, entry is open to VTMSZ members and the general public
- 30 minutes presentation + 10 minutes Q&A
- hand-outs are optional
- presenter's responsibility to make sure technology is working, to introduce self, to involve audience as necessary
- venue, organisation, computer, overhead projector, snacks and refreshments are provided by VTMSZ
- presentation decks are archived and available for future reference

Evaluation is made by members of the Certification Panel (assessors) on format, clarity, communication efficiency, content and time management.

5.5 Panel interview

As the last and decisive stage of the process the Certification Panel (at least three members thereof) interview the candidate to

- resolve documented areas of concern through an open discussion and clarify unclear points noted by assessors in the previous stages
- include questions recommended by assessors from the assessment centre and/or the assessor evaluating the case study
- inquire about the candidate's motivation for obtaining the CMC title
- review recent professional training/development history and candidate's professional development plans
- seek feedback for the continuous improvement of the certification process

After the panel interview, the assessors form a group opinion on the certification of the candidate. A decision to award a CMC title must be endorsed by each assessor present.

6. CMC Assessors - the Certification Panel

- The Certification Panel is appointed by the CMC Board for one annual round of certification; the members are to be selected from CMCs of good standing with a majority from CMCs who already have experience as Panel members from previous years (CMCs holding the title for more than 10 years are preferred in selection)
- New panel members are briefed by the CMC Board on the objectives, procedures and expected results
- Members of the Certification Panel have access to all documentation submitted by the candidates and are present at all face-to-face events to be able to assess the candidates' performance
- If the number of candidates so requires, the Certification Panel may form multiple groups (or interview panels) of assessors – the ideal maximum number is six candidates per interview panel, whereas the number of assessors in any interview panel should be at least three
- The Certification Panel – or in case of multiple interview panels of assessors, the interview panel assigned to the candidate – has the sole responsibility of awarding or denying the CMC title on the basis of the CMC Standards herein, their assessment of the candidate's performance and sound professional judgement.

7. CMC recertification standard

CMC titles are different from academic degrees and diplomas in that – being closely related to management consulting practice – the title may only be maintained if a defined set of criteria are met, and the individual is recertified at the end of each Triennial Certification Cycle (see 7.5 below). VTMSZ requires CMCs to fulfil the following criteria to maintain their titles in Hungary:

- Continuing professional development
- A public presentation in a VTMSZ-organised event
- Continued consulting practice
- VTMSZ individual membership in good standing, including a statement of adherence to the Code of Ethics

Satisfaction of these requirements is examined by the CMC Board relative to each CMC's Triennial Certification Cycle.

7.1 Continuing Professional Development Requirement

CMCs in Hungary are required to obtain an annual minimum of continuing professional development (CPD) in order to maintain their CMC titles.

7.1.1 Required CPD Amounts

- 7.1.1.1 Each CMC needs to complete 20 or more hours of professional development in each calendar year, with a total of 100 or more hours for the Triennial Certification Cycle (see 7.4 below)
- 7.1.1.2 One hour, for the purposes of this standard, means 60 minutes of activity, with the exception of formal training, where a lesson of 45 minutes constitutes one hour.

7.1.2 Eligible activities:

- 7.1.2.1 Attending third party training courses directly related to elements of the CMC Competency Framework (CF)
- 7.1.2.2 Consulting firm internal training courses directly related to CF
- 7.1.2.3 Formal academic training directly related to CF
- 7.1.2.4 VTMSZ professional events

7.1 Continuing Professional Development Requirement

continued

- 7.1.2.5 Lecturing any of the above training events is eligible for double CPD hours, allowing for preparation and lecture
- 7.1.2.6 Professional work in or on behalf of VTMSZ's Board, Committees and projects, if related to CF, including, but not limited to
- Attendance of meetings of the CMC Board, VTMSZ Board and Committees
 - Attendance of VTMSZ or CMC General Meetings
 - Representation of VTMSZ in BKIK, FEACO and ICMCI
 - Work as an assessor in the VTMSZ CMC certification process

7.1.3 Reporting requirements

- 7.1.3.1 CPD hours need to be reported individually before 30 April of the following year.
- 7.1.3.2 Record of date/time, nature, duration and a reference to CF is to be reported for each event.

continued

7.1.3.3 Documentary evidence of attendance of the CPD events should be kept by the CMC until the end of the year immediately following the last year of the Triennial Certification Cycle.

7.1.4 CPD Results

7.1.4.1 All CPD returns will be reviewed by VTMSZ. Returns will be subject to verification to documentary evidence on a statistical sample basis.

7.1.4.2 CMCs unable to report sufficient CPD hours for a given calendar year may request that their titles be inactivated before the end of that calendar year (see Section 8 below)

7.1.4.3 CMC's failing to report 20 or more CPD hours for any calendar year or failing to report 100 or more CPD hours for any Triennial Certification Cycle will fail the CMC recertification and will consequently have their CMC titles revoked.

7.2 Continued Consulting Practice Requirement

CMCs in Hungary are required to practice as management consultants in excess of 1000 working hours per annum to be able to retain their titles.

Eligible practice is limited to

- Chargeable work on client engagements
- Business development of management consulting engagements
- Executive and operative management functions of consulting firms
- Management consulting personnel development, including developing self or others in a consulting firm or lecturing management consulting in academia
- Authoring management consulting literature

CMCs are required to report the total number of their annual practice hours, along with a brief description of one client project to the VTMSZ Secretariat before 30 June of the following year.

CMCs unable to report sufficient practice hours for a given calendar year may request that their titles are inactivated before the end of that calendar year (see Section 8 below).

CMC's failing to report 1000 or more practice hours for any year will fail the CMC recertification and will consequently have their CMC titles revoked.

7.3 Full VTMSZ Individual Membership Requirement

For consultants to retain their CMC titles in Hungary, VTMSZ requires maintaining a full individual membership of good standing, including confirmation of adherence to the Code of Ethics.

CMCs failing to maintain their VTMSZ membership will have their CMC titles revoked.

7.4 Public Presentation Requirement

CMCs are required to hold at least one public professional presentation per Triennial Certification Cycle in a VTMSZ-organised conference or meetup event.

Conferences are held annually and cater for a wider range of professional topics over the course of one or two days, while meetups are less formal, are usually organised around a current topic and typically allow 3-4 presentations per event.

As presentation slots in conference and meetup events are not always available at the same frequency as the Triennial Certification Cycles of the individual CMCS expire, CMCs who are unable to obtain a presentation slot before their Triennial Certification Cycle expires are granted a grace period relative to the presentation requirement until a slot becomes available. Their Triennial Certification Cycle will then restart from the year following their public presentation.

7.5 Triennial Certification Cycle

The maintenance requirements for CMC titles in Hungary are reviewed in Triennial Certification Cycles.

- 7.5.1 The first Triennial Certification Cycle for CMC's having an active title on 1 July 2012 will be the calendar years 2012 through 2014
- 7.5.2 For consultants obtaining the title subsequently, the first Triennial Certification Cycle will be the three calendar years commencing the year of their certification
- 7.5.3 CMCs reactivating their CMC title will start a new Triennial Certification Cycle commencing the year immediately preceding the reactivation
- 7.5.4 The next Triennial Certification Cycle will be the three calendar years immediately following the previous Triennial Certification Cycle
- 7.5.5 CMC certificates are issued for the current certification cycle only. CMC certificates will be reissued upon recertification to members of good standing.

8. Inactive CMC titles standard

- 8.1 CMCs failing to receive recertification in a given calendar year may request that their titles are inactivated (or 'suspended' as previously worded in these standards) before the end of that calendar year
- 8.2 Inactivation is approved by the CMC Board if the person has a valid CMC title and a VTMSZ membership of good standing at the time of the request
- 8.3 Inactive titles are for VTMSZ internal communication only – their sole purpose being to make easier for the holder to return to the profession when the maintenance requirements are met again
- 8.4 Inactive CMCs are not required to maintain a VTMSZ membership during the period of inactivity
- 8.5 The longest continuous period of inactive CMC status is five calendar years, at the expiry of which the person either activates the title or loses it entirely
- 8.6 Provided that the continuous period of inactivity does not exceed five calendar years, inactive CMCs may request reactivation of their CMC titles after submitting all necessary documentation to evidence compliance with the maintenance criteria
- 8.7 The CMC Board grants the activation of the title upon evaluation of such documentation

9. CMC Emeritus title standard

- 9.1 Honorary members of VTMSZ who had held their CMC title in excess of ten consecutive years in good standing and ceased their active professional practice subsequently, may be granted a CMC Emeritus title.
- 9.2 The CMC Emeritus title is distinct from the CMC title in that it does not indicate current qualification to practise, rather it is a recognition of the individual's contribution to the profession as a CMC.
- 9.3 The CMC Emeritus title cannot be applied for; it is offered to qualifying individuals by the CMC Board. Except for abstentions, the CMC Board's approval must be unanimous.
- 9.4 The CMC Emeritus title is granted upon acceptance by the individual of and adherence to the VTMSZ Code of Ethics.
- 9.5 The VTMSZ Secretariat keeps records of CMC Emeriti.

Exhibit C – Appeals in the CMC processes

Appeals related to the CMC certification process

If a candidate is dissatisfied with the way the CMC certification process is handled, then an appeal may be made to the VTMSZ Association Board describing both the discommended situation and a proposal for the desired rectification.

Upon receipt, the Association Board reviews compliance with the CMC Standards herein and decides whether and what corrective measures are needed in order for the result to best reflect the overall objectives of the process.

Appeals to the certification decision

If a candidate is dissatisfied with the result of the certification (ie, the decision made by the Certification Panel), then an appeal may be made to the CMC Board. The CMC Board will then review whether the CMC Standards herein have been adhered to. If a departure from the Standards or from the underlying objectives is detected, then the CMC Board arranges for the certification process (or one or multiple stages thereof) to be repeated.

Regardless of the number and nature of eventual repeated stages of the process, neither the CMC Board, nor any other body has jurisdiction to turn over the decision – the ultimate decision on certification remains the sole responsibility of the Certification Panel as long as the Standards herein are followed.
